Project Title: Concorde Website

I would like my first page to be a large image, with navigation to more specific pages incorporated with the body of the airplane, similar to a blueprint with labels (but using a normal image). On subsequent pages, I would like site navigation to be across the top of the page, with a general single column layout with images incorporated (maybe hover elements, so when you hover over an image, it highlights a specific piece of text).

Home Page: A short introduction to the aircraft, possible just a brief slogan and the dates when it was in use. Links to other pages to learn more information.

Development/Design: Flight specifications, speed, angled nose, other notable features.

Accidents: Information regarding the fatal AirFrance 4590 crash in Paris

Comparable Aircraft: Its Soviet brethren, the TU-144, and American attempts.

Operational History: Will include notable flights, and the future operation of Concorde airplanes. Also information on why it stopped flying (environmental and $$ considerations).
